Graduations this week

Students plan future

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

As the school year winds down, seniors at Granite City, Madison and Venice high schools are looking forward to the end of the year, and in some cases the beginning of college.

At Granite City High School, approximately 400 students will be graduating. Madison will graduate 35 students, and Venice 23.

Both Madison and Granite City will hold graduation ceremonies on Friday.

The Granite City High School graduation will be at 7:30 p.m. at the Granite City High School, while Granite City High School's ceremonies will begin at 8 p.m. at the school's football field.

Venice High School graduation will be at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

For some, the end of high school means moving on to a job, for others the military or college.

For the top students at all three schools, it means college.

Granite City valedictorian Brian McMillan said he plans to attend the University of Illinois as a major in bioengineering and premedicine.

He is an Illinois State Scholar, a Belleville News-Democrat Academic Excellence award winner and captain of the state's scholar

Car-jacking probed Woman allegedly raped after car stolen

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Granite City police are narrowing their investigation into a reported car-jacking and rape that occurred early Monday.

"We have a suspect in custody now and the investigation is continuing," Police Chief Dave Ruebhausen said Wednesday.

The victim, a 26-year-old resident of the 2600 block of State Street, told police her car was hijacked and she was beaten and raped early Monday morning after leaving a tavern in Madison.

The woman's face was swollen and both her eyes were bruised as a result of the beating, according to a police report.

Police utilized a description of the suspect and a videotape recording from a convenience store to track down the alleged rapist.

A suspect, 18, was arrested in the parking lot of Buzz's Tavern in Madison at about midnight Monday morning and headed toward her home in her own car. She said another vehicle followed her car closely down Madison Avenue with its lights on high beam.

Police utilized a description of the suspect and a videotape recording from a convenience store to track down the alleged rapist.

Once she pulled into a parking space at the bar, the man emerged from the trailing car, opened the door and then attacked her over to the passenger seat, she told police.

The suspect pulled out a pair of handcuffs, told the victim she was "under arrest" and began hitting her in the face with his fists.

He then forced her to walk to a farm road, where he said he was going to meet a friend, and then to a house in the city.

In the basement of the house, the suspect allegedly ripped the victim's clothes off and

For Margaret Kaltmayer, it is not just a slogan.
It is the only way to do her job.

Kaltmayer, service center manager at Schnucks in Granite City, was named division winner in Schnucks' "Employee of the Year" awards program.

She was one of 10 finalists chosen from the supermarket chain's 900 stores in Illinois, Kansas and Indiana. Dole, Clinton get invitations President Bill Clinton and U.S. Sen. Bob Dole may face off in a political skirmish this fall in their battle for the White House.

Democratic and Republican party leaders plan to invite Clinton and Dole to Madison County for big political rallies.

"Madison County has been a strategic political battleground for presidential candidates since John F. Kennedy won over voters with his speech in 1960," said Alton's Democratic Chairman Edward Youmard.

Sr. said Madison County has been fertile political ground for a gathering of presidential hopefuls, including Kennedy, Adlai Stevenson, Dr. George Bush; Jimmy Carter, Gerald Ford and Clinton.

"Illinois could be a swing state for the November election and Madison County is a strategic campaign ground for Donald J. Clinton," County GOP Chairman Gus F. Edwards said.

Ragdale of Alton said Youmard will personally invite Dole to Alton and

News in review

"News in review" provides a summary of top stories from the area. The column is designed to assist out-of-town readers who do not receive the Sunday and Wednesday newspapers:

Pontoon Road work on again

Negotiations between representatives of Ameritech and Granite City have resolved a conflict holding up a $1.3 million Pontoon Road construction project.

But delays caused by problems with relocating utilities will almost certainly prevent completion of the project before winter sets in, the city said.

The project includes a new 40-foot-wide concrete roadway between Wabash Avenue and Maryville Road; two 12-foot-wide traffic lanes and two eight-foot-wide parking lanes; new sidewalks; new curbs and a stormwater sewer system.

Funeral home spurs interest

While Madison city officials said they welcome a proposal to reopen a funeral home on Madison Avenue, they also said there are a number of issues that must be resolved before it could be done.

At last week's council meeting, Brian Winters, owner of Winters Funeral Service in East St. Louis, said he was interested in purchasing and reopening the Lahay Funeral Home building at 501 Madison Ave.

Winters said he was told about the property through a local real estate agent, and he has talked to city inspectors about the property, but was told he needed approval from the council.

While city officials were supportive of the proposal and said the city needs a funeral home, several said there are a number of problems to be solved before it could happen.

Twins' poem published

Candy and Mandy Nonn, 10-year-old identical twins, have had a poem published in the summer 1996 edition of "Children's Fun Puzzles."

The poem, appropriately, is about being twins.

The girls are students at Niedringhaus Elementary School.

Davis storm continues

Controversy over Rep. Steve Davis' accusations of Republican "race baiting" continued to boil last week.

The Belthio Democrat claimed that his raucous exchange with Speaker of the House Newt Gingrich earlier this month will prompt further Republican attacks on still-festering racial tensions. He said Republicans were in the wrong by changing legislation to remove badly needed funding for local school districts, a move Davis claims was made in retaliation for his outburst.

Davis' Republican opponent, Jim Mitchell, said he did not believe Davis was being pursued by Republicans over the exchange, which centered on an anonymous distributed photo of Davis and Alton NAACP President James Gray on the House floor.

Class adopts cancer patient

Danielle Pomminger, a Grover, Mo., girl suffering from a rare form of cancer, has been adopted by a Coolidge Middle School class.

The class has held a collection for Danielle and also donated a variety of items to her. She visited the school last week.

Danielle, 12, suffers from malignant fibrous histiocytoma — a rare form of cancer that attacks the lowest extremities.

Madison fights fireworks

Madison city officials have served notice that they will not tolerate the shooting of illegal fireworks in the city.

The notice came last week after a resident complained at the City Council meeting that stress from fireworks set off last year on her property by neighbors caused her husband to be sent to the hospital.

Mayor John Billehoff, noting that the city has ordinances against setting off fireworks, said the city will not tolerate fireworks this year.

1,000 attend funeral

Nearly 1,000 mourners attended a funeral mass for longtime Madison County Board Chairman Nelson "Nellie" Hagnauer last week at Holy Family Catholic Church.

He is remembered as a powerful man who never forgot friends and family.

"He wouldn't want us to remember him as a great man but as a decent man, which he was," said U.S. Rep. Jerry Costello, D-Belleville, during the service.

Mark Hagnauer, Hagnauer's widow, Bernie, has been named to succeed him as Granite City Township supervisor.

To take the job, Bernie Hagnauer had to resign her position as township office manager.

Transit district costs low

A study prompted by Republican calls for an audit of the Madison County Transit District shows the district's operating costs are "significantly lower" than those of comparable systems, according to the transit district.

A management analysis of data published by the Federal Transit Administration concluded that the district's operating costs per mile were one-third less than the average cost of 14 comparable bus systems in Illinois and around the nation in 1994.

Selph cites 'accomplishments'

By Bob Slaten
Staff writer

Infrastructure improvements and increased city services without a tax increase and new private development were among the highlights of 1995 accomplishments, according to Mayor Ron Selph's third annual "State of the City" address.

"In this, the end of my third year in office, we have seen some of our greatest accomplishments," Selph said. "While the first two years were plagued with flooding and a variety of problems inconsistent with a normal business year, we have been able to focus on the day-to-day operations and the need for a strong service base for our residents."

Selph attributed the successes of the past year to a hard-working staff, a dedicated police department and a new level of cooperation at the street department.

Among the specific advances Selph cited were improvements in the fire, police and street departments; expansion of the Neighborhood Improvement program; increased enforcement of health and safety codes; and private development spurred by tax increment financing and other incentives.

Selph also said cooperation between the police and street department has resulted in an expansion of the DARE program.

He said his administration has been innovative in its use of financial resources, including federal grants and other funding sources — rather than local property tax dollars — to pay for many improvements.

Among improvements, Selph promised to emphasize the need for increased enforcement of city codes.

"One primary focus of my administration has been to increase and enforce city codes," Selph said. "Over the past year, the sanitation department has issued over 700 citations for trash, junk, debris, brush and animals running at large, as well as over 400 violations for motorized vehicles, through the city's cleanup program, we made over 6,000 residential pickups of trash."

"It is essential for all of us to do our best to maintain a clean city, but we cannot do it alone. This project requires the continued support of the entire community," he said.

Selph concluded by encouraging every resident to participate in the city's community service.

"Our hard-working employees and a community willing to change and grow with the times will continue the success of the past year," Selph said. "I encourage everyone to join us this our 100th year celebration and every year to make Granite City the best it can be."

Madison police busy making holiday arrests

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

While others were busy with Memorial Day picnics, barbecues and parades over the weekend, the Madison Police Department was busy making arrests.

Beginning Friday, Madison police made a number of arrests on a variety of charges.

At 10:20 a.m. Friday, police arrested Eric "Cool Breeze" Webb, 29, on Second Street near the intersection with Alton Avenue, after receiving a report of a person acting suspiciously.

While police questioned Webb, a witness came over and told police they had seen him approaching a number of cars.

Webb and the witness then got into an argument, and Webb allegedly pushed and threatened the witness.

He was charged with misdemeanor battery and assault.

Carlton Mason, 26, of Washington Park, was arrested later Friday on an outstanding warrant for possession of the look-alike substance after his car was pulled over for having no tail light.

He was charged with driving with a suspended license, driving with no insurance and careless driving after being stopped at about 6:30 p.m.

On Sunday, Jeffrey C. Arnold, 35, of the 2500 block of Angela in Granite City, was charged with driving with no valid license, driving with no insurance, illegal transportation of alcohol, illegally squeezing tires, failure to use a turn signal, resisting arrest and disobeying a police officer.

Charges of possession of controlled substance are pending later.

On Saturday, Donald M. Jenkinson, 34, who gave an address at the Quality Inn in Collinsville, was charged with driving with a suspended license, driving with no valid insurance, driving with no valid registration, illegal transportation of alcohol and illegal possession of drug equipment.

Jenkinson was being stopped at the intersection of 4th and Madison at about 1:45 a.m.

He could face an additional drug charge because what was found in his crack cocaine was discovered on Jenkinson during a search.

Charges of possession of controlled substance are pending later.

Also on Saturday, Brad T. Carterberry, 22, of the 700 block of 26th Street in Granite City, was charged with driving with a suspended license, driving with no insurance and careless driving after being stopped at about 6:30 p.m.

On Sunday, Jeffrey C. Arnold, 35, of the 2500 block of Angela in Granite City, was charged with driving with no valid license, driving with no insurance, illegal transportation of alcohol, illegally squeezing tires, failure to use a turn signal, resisting arrest and disobeying a police officer.

Administrative codes have been to increase and enforce city codes, Selph said. Over the past year, the sanitation department has issued over 700 citations for trash, junk, debris, brush and animals running at large, as well as over 400 violations for motorized vehicles, through the city's cleanup program, we made over 6,000 residential pickups of trash.

"It is essential for all of us to do our best to maintain a clean city, but we cannot do it alone. This project requires the continued support of the entire community," he said.

Selph concluded by encouraging every resident to participate in the city's community service.

"Our hard-working employees and a community willing to change and grow with the times will continue the success of the past year," Selph said. "I encourage everyone to join us this our 100th year celebration and every year to make Granite City the best it can be."

I-270 work starts Saturday

The complicated construction on Interstate 270 begins Saturday near the I-255 interchange and will eventually extend west 8 miles. Traffic will be restricted to one lane each way, plus a reversible center lane.

On May 26, a reversible lane designed to ease construction during high-traffic periods for St. Louis commuters will cause some extra problems for motorists entering and leaving the interstate from the Granite City area.

Drivers in the center lane will be unable to exit at three interchanges: Illinois 200, 203, 205 and 111. Beginning next March 1, drivers in the center lane will also be unable to exit at Riverview Drive in Missouri.

Also, eastbound motorists on Illinois 203 will be unable to enter I-270 for much of the construction.

Reversible lane drivers from 1 to 7 p.m. each weekday and westbound drivers from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. each weekday, plus weekends.

Illinois Department of Transportation officials are encouraging motorists to explore alternatives like different routes, car pools or mass transit to traffic snarls.

DOT Construction Engineer Herman Fahy said all other bridges are likely to see an increase in traffic until the project's projected completion in 1999.

The stretch of I-270 slated for construction carries about 50,000 motorists per day in a $90-million project, funded with 80 percent federal and 10 percent state money, will replace pavement and bridge decks along the 8.6-mile stretch, which have been worn heavily throughout the last 30 years.

Keeler Construction of Edwardsville and Keeley & Sons of East St. Louis were awarded the contract for the first phase of construction.

Carol's comments Election year brings on blues

Ain't it funny how time slips away? Just doesn't seem possible that four short, short, short, short, long, long years have slipped by and we're back once more to our quadrennial silly season of rash promises, political red herrings and near-surreal vindictiveness. It's enough to make a body bark.

It's going to be a long, hot summer. The anti-abortionists and pro-practitioners are already applying the war paint in anticipation of a no-holds-barred confrontation at the conventions.

Political season is in full feather. The citizen-in-the-street is being quizzed on how (she) feels about legalizing same-sex marriage. Is it right or not?

The St. Louis Art Museum should allow a showing of an artistic (?) expression which features the flag being stuffed in a toilet.

A recent area newspaper poll indicated that in a two-state (Illinois and Missouri) region, Clinton would beat Dole. This, according to the analysts, because of the female vote, but the carry-over story failed to explain WHY the ladies prefer Bill over Bob. And neither guy has actually been elected.

This is simply a forecast of things to come. The campaigns aren't even in gear yet. True, I can't believe political nonsense is still around, but add to these a few other tidbits and you're looking at real depression.

Am I sick of hearing the same old stories of Louis Farrakhan and Marge Schott? Damn right! Does it disturb me that last week, a pickup truck ate one of my bore traps? I'm sick of reading

...My kid beat up on your honk roll kid? And passed a scurvy-looking guy whose T-shirt was emblazoned with Live to Die. Am I a pyromaniac or do these messages at least hint of public approval, or at least, acceptance of violence?

For myself, I've had an attitude for the last two weeks ago. I spent a peaceful afternoon dog-sitting the Steele's two Australian sheepdogs, Sadie and Misty. The girls (sisters, actually) were on their best behavior, probably because they were where they most enjoy being, inside and with a person. They napped, I read. Occasionally, just to remind me they were there, one of them would bark or wag.

Carol

Then, on the same day I observed the bumper sticker and the T-shirt, I stopped in a shop on Edwardsville's Main Street, had a friendly visit with the business's official greeter, Trapper.

Unfortunately, Trapper had succumbed to the lure of a sun-dappled afternoon and had played hookey from his Monday-through-Saturday job at To-Do's, but I'll catch up with him this week.

The first day of the meet

Trapper was at first sight. For one thing, he's a hunk. A gorgeous, full-grown golden retriever. Gentle.

Well-mannered. Intelligent. Beautiful. I wish I knew a few men who have as much going for them as does the Trapper.

He enjoys being petted, offers his paw for a handshake, bends down, and presses your cheek and Trapper will kiss you. Kiss, no lick. A mere brush of the muzzle against your skin. The Trapper can make my day just do it.

The shop's owners, Larry and Katie Neely, acquired Trapper when he was 3. He'll be 10 in June. He's already been named, obviously for the character in "M*A*S*H."

They have another dog, a collie, at home, but rarely bring the collie to the shop. And with Trapper since, Katie says, "He's not doubled.

Armenians remember massacre

April 24, 1915, will always remain one of the darkest days in the annals of mankind, for it was on this day that some 600 Armenian intellectual and political leaders were gathered, taken away and massacred by the Turkish government. This began the systematic slaughter and annihilation of an entire race of people.

Between the years 1915 and 1921, more than 2.5 million Armenians were massacred by the government of Turkey in an attempt to resolve what it termed the Armenian question. The result of the massacre was because of prevailing war conditions. Entire cities and villages of once prosperous western Armenia were emptied of their inhabitants who had lived on those lands some 800 years before the onslaught of the barbaric conquerors.

This wholesale slaughter of an entire nation was committed with the knowledge of world powers who, for their own self-interest and immoral interests, allowed these events to take their murderous courses, resulting in a genocide that became the prototype for future crimes against the whole of humanity for it was Adolf Hitler who pro-

Job Corps helping many

TO THE EDITOR:

More students and young adults have jumped on the "bandwagon" to a better future by becoming involved with Job Corps this past year. In fact, the number of those taking advantage of the educational, vocational and vocational training that Job Corps offers has more than doubled.

There are many reasons why trouble teens and young adults should learn more about Job Corps.

Job Corps launches

... — more than 75 percent of Job Corps graduates are placed in employment or go on to achieve further education.

Job Corps is cost effective — Job Corps students need less public assistance and, upon gainful employment, pay more taxes.

Job Corps builds character — Those involved in the program are less likely to be involved in criminal activity.

Job Corps is an economic stimulus to communities. Students produce more than $22 million each year in completed construction projects. These projects provide hands-on vocational training for the students and ultimately benefit the community.

The mission of Job Corps is to provide academic and vocational training opportunities for those families without means of affording further educational opportunities for their young adults.

For more information on Job Corps, call 1 (800) 239-JOBS

Volunteers at hospice saluted

TO THE EDITOR:

April 21-27, 1996 was National Volunteer Week and I would like to take this opportunity to thank the people I believe are the most dedicated volunteers in our community, the volunteers of Tip of Illinois Hospice Program.

While our hospice employs paid professionals, we also rely on volunteers to provide assistance at all levels of skill.

In a number of ways, volunteering for hospice differs from other community work. For instance, hospice patients are very often required to undergo standardized training before being allowed to work directly with a patient or family.

No task is too big or too small for our volunteers. Often the most important thing they can do is just "be there" for patients and reassess them if they are alone. They hold their hand, offer a smile, share a good cry, or just listen.

It is not easy work, but the personal rewards are enormous. The strength and courage of patients provide a constant source of inspiration, and volunteers usually feel good more than they have been able to give.

Our hospice is growing as more and more people seek our help. For this reason, we have recently hired new volunteers.

If you would like to learn more about hospice or volunteer for hospice, please call 1-800-371-3885 or visit us at our hospice locations in Marion, Cairo, Metropolis, Sparta, or St. Louis.

The staff of Tip of Illinois Hospice Program is grateful to our volunteers for the wealth of time and compassion they give to make our community a better place to live.

Davis' vote shames area

TO THE EDITOR:

If you like the ACLU, then you'll love State Rep. Steve Davis.

Steve recently voted against SB366, which will allow the teaching of religion's role in history.

The ACLU and other groups like the National Atheists Association were opposed to this valuable legislation. Fortunately, it was voted down, but Davis shamed our area by voting to totally exclude religion from the public schools.

Vote for Jim Malihach for state representative in the 11th District.

Killers should not be heroes

TO THE EDITOR:

When I was a child, our gun-toting heroes of the entertainment industry were people like "The Lone Ranger" who never killed anyone.

Today's heroes are people like "Rambo" and "Dirty Harry."

Some say this has not had an effect on our society. I say it has, and a dramatic one.

Our little senator, Paul Simon, has been fighting a battle to encourage Hollywood and others to stop glamorizing and glorifying murder and violence for years, with little effect.

We should fight crime by going after its causes, as well as concentrating on building more prisons (our new growth industry) and increasing our rate of executions.

In 1994, our son was among the almost 50,000 people who were killed on our nation's highways. He was hit head-on by the driver of a pickup truck on the wrong side of the road. We suspect he (the driver) may have been DUI. He had a long list of previous traffic infractions.

Read our son's autopsy report and you might conclude it would have been more appropriate to shoot him.

Highway deaths are often very violent. Since then, many of the folks who are strong advocates of the death sentence have raised their voices. They insist that motorists they don't have to wear helmets on the interstates.

I think it would be good to have a few more like one Illinois man has to control firearms. In Illinois you can't even buy a box of ammo without an Illinois F.O.I. card.

On a state-by-state basis it's not unusual for the "Give them the death sentence" crowd will not agree. Instead of a "V" chip in our TVs, we need to just stop producing this lousy entertainment.

Brandon Caple from Worthen School winds up to throw softball. In this event, the best of two throws was measured for distance.

Participants in the 100-meter sprint break for the finish line.

Dennis Singleton jumps in the long jump competition while Richard Schlake waits his turn. Both boys attend Lake School.

Elyssa Phillips, a student at Niedringhaus School, winds up for the softball throw.

High school student Bobby Ellis, helping out with the sports day, watches as Bobby Jarrett of Niedringhaus School clears the bar in the high jump.

Jamie Denson of Prather School takes a look at his last throw in the softball tossing competition. It measured out to 160 feet and 1 1/2 inches, good for fifth place in his group.

Jenny Mavar of Prather School takes a leap in the long jump competition while Wilson School physical education teacher Dan Robertson gets ready with the tape.

100 years ago, tornado brought area disaster

By Deb Cooper
Staff writer

On May 27, 1896, thousands of people across the Metro East area were just sitting down to dinner when the skies turned oddly green and disaster struck.

In less than 40 minutes, a killer tornado, 800 yards wide, cut a path of destruction across St. Louis before jumping across the Mississippi River and hitting East St. Louis.

With wind speeds in excess of 200 miles per hour, the tornado killed 312 people, injured 1,000 more and caused millions of dollars in damage.

A second tornado, possibly from the same storm system, skipped over Belleville and touched down three miles north of Mascoutah, causing more damage and killing 24 residents in the Clark area. In all, over 800 tornadoes are reported nationwide and these result in 80 deaths and 1,500 injuries.

Abell said this area averages five to six tornadoes per 10,000 square miles each year.

"Spring, from March to June, is our main activity period, but we have had tornadoes in October and December," he said.

In this area, mid- to late afternoon and early evening are the times most likely to develop tornadoes. "The magic hour is between 5 and 6 p.m. This is when the ground is the hottest," said Abell.

The life of a tornado can be from one minute for a weak one up to an hour for the most violent storms.

The National Weather Service is responsible for issuing tornado warnings.

A watch means conditions are favorable for a tornado to develop; a warning means a tornado has been sighted or indicated by radar.

According to the American Red Cross, residents should be familiar with tornado safety. The organization recommends everyone develop plans and have drills.

It recommends the following action, if a warning is issued or if threatening weather approaches:

- ✓ Take cover in a designated shelter such as a basement or move to an interior room or hallway.
- ✓ Stay away from windows.
- ✓ Get out of vehicles.
- ✓ Do not try to outrun a tornado in your car; leave it immediately.
- ✓ If you are caught outside, lie flat in a ditch.
- ✓ Mobile homes offer little protection. Seek shelter elsewhere.

Madison purchases approved

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Several requests from the Madison Fire Department were approved by the City Council at last week's meeting.

The council approved the purchase of used fire trucks and foam from Shell Oil Company for $2,350.

The council approved purchasing 20 sections of 1½ inch hose, 10 sections of 3-inch hose, and 50 gallons of foam. The hose comes in 50-foot sections.

The hose will be used on the city's new fire truck or to replace bad sections of hose on the other trucks. The foam would be used for training.

The cost is about half of that new hose.

The council also approved sending five firefighters to the fire school in Champaign, Ill.

The city will pay the $30 registration and $120 for each.

The council also granted permission to place one fire truck in the Granite City Shrine/Centennial Parade. The council also granted permission to enter a fire truck team in the Granite City Fire Department's Centennial Fire Master Competition.

The fire department also noticed the council of the election of department officers.

The new officers are: chief — Mike Foley; assistant chief — Robert Robbins; captain — Jeff Bridle; and lieutenant — Steven Bridle.

In other business, a subdivision plat allowing a new furniture store on Harrison Avenue east of Illinois Route 209 was approved by the council.

The plat had been given preliminary approval by the Zoning Board of Appeals during a meeting May 1.

The property, recently annexed into the city, is owned by Everett G. Steel.

City officials also received the final financial report Comptroller Jeanne Weidner requested by aldermen, it showed the city had a total of $1,226,709.90 in all its accounts.

Aldermen had asked for detailed reports at council meetings, but the reports had been delayed while auditors came in to help determine the exact amount of money.

Weidner said transfer of monies from the sale of the Hunco Steel property had created uncertainty about the correct figures, and she requested the audit be postponed.

The report showed approximately $580,000 in the city's combined checking account.

The city's general fund showed $677,000, but it was listed as negative amounts in the library, recreation and shopping center funds.

The city also had $643,000 in its money market account.

The council also approved zeroing out the negative numbers in the recreation fund.

Children waiting to be adopted are interviewed during a press conference last week for the One Church One Child program.

One Church One Child works primarily with African-American children because of the difficulty in finding homes for black children.

There are presently 35 children in the Metro area available for adoption with 50 of those children being African-American.

African-American boys are the most difficult to find homes for and of the 54 African-American children in the Metro East needing homes, 35 are boys.

Hudson also noted that a special emphasis is placed on older children who are more difficult to place because of their age or special needs.

The Rev. Robert Freeman, pastor of Grace United Methodist Church in the Board of Directors of One Church One Child, said that when the program started there were 1,200 African-American children waiting to be adopted.

Today, there are only 305 in Illinois waiting for families.

Two active local pastors in the program have been the Rev. M.R. Lemons of Pilgrim Baptist Church and the Rev. David Crockett of Greater New Hope Missionary Baptist Church, both in East St. Louis.

Lemons is the treasurer for the One Church One Child program.

Crockett's church hosted the meeting of One Church One Child officials in East St. Louis last week.

"I do not think that there could be a more worthy cause for us to be involved in," Crockett said.

For more information about adoption, call the Adoption Information Center of Illinois at 1-800-572-2390.

ranging in age from 4 to 13.

Along with Andrew in August 1995 Cox adopted his brothers: Anthony, 12; Michael, 10; Jason, 9; Lamour, 8; Charles, 7; and Lawrence, 5.

Cox also adopted Demario, 4, who was not related to the brothers.

"But he has always considered himself their brother," Cox said.

After 20 years of working at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Cox retired and was supposed to enjoy his golden years in peace.

But she decided to become a foster parent, which lead to the seven brothers coming to live with her.

"They didn't want to go anywhere else so they just stayed with me," Cox said about the transition from foster mom to active mother.

Cox said she takes the responsibility of raising the boys day by day and isn't bothered by the fact that she will have children living in her home for at least another decade.

By the time Demario grows up from high school, Cox will have been raising children for 55 years.

The two older children attend Madison Middle School while the younger siblings attend Harris Elementary School.

Cox said raising children is a joy for her but wasn't too thrilled about receiving a award and was definitely not thrilled about being at a press conference.

"This press conference makes me nervous. Raising kids comes much easier to me," Cox said.

Homecoming set for Sunday

St. James Church of God in Christ will be sponsoring a homecoming at 3 p.m. Sunday, June 2, at the church, 1200 Calhoun Street, Madison.

The guest speaker will be Pastor Mike Hopkin of City Temple Assembly of God in Granite City.

For information call the Rev. Benjamin Kelly, 314-862-3421 or the church at 877-0044.

and did just what we talked about on the way down here," said Redskins coach Jay Lipe. "Some of the girls did not get goals. Amy Sanders and Megan Steward, they have the freedom to unleash it at any time. They've got great skills and they're not afraid with their feet. We told them that if you've got it near the 18- (yard line), let it go. We wanted to test their goalkeeper. We felt we could beat them."

That's exactly what Glenwood did in the first half. The Redskins would find open field just outside the penalty box, then turn and see Sanders' goal was a soft line drive which settled under the crossbar just over the reach of Lady Warriors keeper Shannon Roth.

And Steward's goal was a highlight-reel quality shot. It hit the knuckles down and under Roth to her left.

But a 2-1 lead wasn't enough to get GCHS down, and the Lady Warriors came around to score the Glenwood goal for the final 40 minutes. Michelle Montgomery scored the equalizer with 27 minutes left in regulation, and 15 minutes later, freshman Amber Hubert scored the biggest goal of her young career to give GCHS the win.

"We're just super enthused about it. We're such a young team, and they've made such a lot of progress," said GCHS coach Jay Lipe. "I think there will be an additional educational experience to have the opportunity to compete there."

"Glenwood is very good, but it's typical of a game that you're going to be behind all of a sudden, they score. Frankly, the second half was all ours."

"Montgomery's just a great team, and you know they're going to keep coming at you in waves," Lipe said. "I even thought we were forcing the issue the first part of the second half. I thought if we could just get that third goal, we would be able to hold on. But we didn't get it, and I knew they were outworked in a game. We might lose, but we're never knocked off. I think the girls are very fit, and it showed in this game."

"I could see our kids, little by little, just dying out there."

I'm not looking for excuses, just to play an overtime game, just the day before (makes it tough)."

Tara Tomlinson, as usual, was the player to spark the Lady Warriors' offense. If anyone deserved a goal Tuesday night, it was Tomlinson, who broke in alone on goal at least four times only to come up empty after a series of shots, shooting wide or having the defender make the save at the last minute.

But after Tomlinson got going, she did the entire GCHS team. After outshooting the Redskins just 5-4 in the first half, Granite City dominated the shot-e2 in the second half.

Montgomery

Carrie Simpson sent a hard shot on goal that Glenwood keeper Amy Votava couldn't handle. And Hubert made a quick shot into the back of the box, where she sent a low shot that nestled into the corner of the net past Votava.

"I give a lot of credit to coach Virgil Koenig. He scouted that team for us," Baker said. "I think it made us much more prepared. And Tara was just out of this world."

Amber has been coming along. The only thing she'd lacked was confidence at this level. But you can see we were outworked in a game. We might lose, but we're never knocked off. I think the girls are very fit, and it showed in this game."

"I could see our kids, little by little, just dying out there."

Montgomery, who just a few days earlier was named to the all-teams. But Friday's state final game will be the first time the two girls' programs have met each other.

The Lady Warriors and Lady Knights, who won their regional final game Friday night at Conant High School in Hoffman Estates, just outside of Chicago. Game time is set for 7:30 p.m., and a large contingent of Granite City fans are expected to make the trip.

On Friday, they will see an excellent Richwoods team, which is 21-2-1 and defeating Springfield High 8-4 in a wild double overtime contest Tuesday night.

Hosting their own super-sectionals, the Lady Knights got by Springfield with a goal in the second overtime.

"It was an amazing game," Macomber said. "We hadn't allowed two goals in any game this season. We had 15 shutouts this year. If somebody had asked me what would have happened if we were to have scored four goals, I'd have thought we would win, easily."

"But it was a grueling, back-and-forth game. We'd score, they'd score. We'd score, they'd score. It was fun for the fans, but not for the coaches."

Meanwhile, the Lady Warriors are surviving a minor test by Chatham Glenwood.

The Redskins had a 2-1 lead with 28 minutes left in the game before Lady Warriors rallied to prevail 3-2.

had two men reach base on errors — but stranded nine runners.

Alton jumped on top 1-0 in the second when Wolfe belted a long home run off the second son over the right-field fence. The 362-foot blast took everyone by surprise, including Wolfe, who stopped at second base, thinking the ball had bounded over the wall for a ground-rule double.

Bellm, coaching third base, also had doubts.

"I couldn't really tell, so I asked the umpire if the ball hit the top of the fence, but he told me it went over by about two feet," Bellm said. "It was great to jump on top, because people are surprised by the pitcher and you know you won't get too many shots at him."

Wolfe made things happen again in the fifth, leading off with a walk and stealing second and third. He came home on a hit by Bowen, who later scored Alton's third run on an error.

Bellm said Saturday's victory was just the latest step in a journey that has brought Alton baseball back to the level of respectability.

"Now, we're in uncharted waters," he said.
